

CHECKLIST

The most important for your packing list

LOADING

In order not to go without anything on holiday, you should always have a few things with you. Take your time to get everything together. Avoid stress, after all, the best days of the year begin with the preparation. Ask friends or neighbours to empty the letterbox and regularly water the plants. Remove open food from the fridge and unplug everything. Turn off the water, close the windows and doors and set the heating to frost protection. Finally, you should give your holiday address and telephone number to a trusted person.

IMPORTANT

Do not forget anything. The most important things are, of course, your passport, driver's licence, vehicle license and insurance documents. Don't forget your credit card and some cash for tolls or parking. A warning triangle and safety vests should be ready to hand in the cockpit. This also applies to the first-aid kit.
