In the 2024 model year, Carado offers a variety of innovations for unique travel moments. Following the release of the CV590 4x4 earlier this year, the low profile T338, T447 and T449 layouts based on Ford are now also available. In addition, new decors and five different living environment designs in the interior as well as new equipment features and design decals on the rear and on the side wall of the vehicles ensure a new appearance - both inside and outside.

“The further developments of our vehicles are largely based on the experiences and wishes of our customers. Putting them in the focus of our further developments corresponds perfectly with our corporate philosophy. Together with new safety technology and customization options through special equipment, we can take a valuable and, above all, sensible step forward,” says Julian Manz, Managing Director of Carado.

Ford semi-integrated as a special edition "EDITION24"

The semi-integrated models based on Ford in the layouts T338, T447 (both also based on Fiat) and T449 are available in the current model year as "EDITION24". All models are equipped with a Ford 130 BHP heavy-duty engine, 16" aluminium rims and have the chassis package, the basic package, a folding blackout blind, windows in the T-hood, a large refrigerator, the "grey" living environment, an insulated wastewater tank, an awning, a TV package, framed windows, and design applications at the rear. There is also a second exterior storage hatch in the garage.

The "EDITION24" models can be individualized with a range of special equipment, including the Ford 155 BHP heavy-duty engine, automatic transmission, pull-down bed, bicycle rack, wooden grate in the shower, cable preparation for a solar system and underfloor heating.

New appearance with a focus on comfort, safety and functionality

With a focus on comfort, safety and functionality, Carado has further developed the motorhomes and camper vans. In the interior, the ambient lighting and the coordinated decors in the colours Visby Oak, Sand Grey and Cozy White ensure a harmonious appearance. Living worlds are available in the designs graphite, explorer, white, brown and grey depending on the model.

Not only is the colour world inside the Carados new, the shape of the furniture has also changed. Due to the changed shape, the overhead lockers in the living area have around 25% more volume and storage space.

The design has also been optimized in the sleeping area of the motorhomes (except vans): sloping twin beds offer more space and freedom of movement for the best possible comfort. In order to provide more storage options, the shelves above the twin beds were transformed into semi-enclosed shelves, called swallow's nests.

In the bathroom area, the toilet and shower room has been completely revised (except for vans and alcoves) and adapted to the new colour and shape concept.

As part of the basic package, customers will be able to choose from a 5 cm wider comfort entrance door with a window, storage options and coat hooks.

Also, part of the basic package is the consistent bridge light, which gives the standard new rear light carrier with integrated LED multifunction lights a consistent appearance and underlines the focus on safety.

New equipment line "pro" and "pro+" for Fiat and Citroen layouts

Another special feature of the new model year are the "pro" and "pro+" equipment lines for Fiat and Citroen layouts. Motorhomes, vans and camper vans can be easily and cleverly equipped with them.
